Jackson Lamb PhD

London, UK | jackson.lamb@example.com | sloughhouse.example.com | github.com/jackson-lamb-example

Curriculum Vitae

Education

PhD, Intelligence and Security Studies, University of Slough — 2015

Dissertation: Leaks, Lies and the Berlin Wall

BA, German and Russian, Finsbury Polytechnic — 1983

Positions

Head of Department, Slough House, MI5 (Security Service), London — 2008 – present

Senior Officer, Regent's Park, London — 1991 – 2008

Field Officer, Berlin Station — 1984 – 1991

Publications

Lamb, J. (2019). Filing cabinets as load-bearing structures: Paperwork and plausible deniability. Journal of Example Tradecraft, 4(2), 1–17.

Lamb, J. & Standish, C. (2022). Takeaway containers as a counter-surveillance measure: A field study. Quarterly Review of Slow Horses, 1(1), 1–3.

Teaching

Why You Are Here and Not at Regent's Park, orientation for every new arrival — 2008 – present

Remedial Fieldcraft, one-to-one tuition for R. Cartwright — ongoing

Computers Are Not a Personality, taught to R. Ho, repeatedly — ongoing

Making a Proper Cup of Tea, compulsory for all staff — every intake

Skills

Data: Python, SQL, R, cross-referencing access logs, reading files upside down on other people's desks.

Tradecraft: Surveillance detection, interrogation, Cold War fieldcraft, knowing which colleague is lying (all of them).

Other: Selective hearing, strategic napping, smoking indoors (advanced), atmospheric deterrence.

Placeholder CV for the LaTeX Application Kit examples. Jackson Lamb is a fictional character from Mick Herron's Slough House novels and the TV series Slow Horses.